> to be given by the faculty of the University of Ulah was delivered last night by President J. T. Kingshury. The lecture room of the chemical laboratory outding was filled with an attentive and appreciative audience. "Some of the Nitrates and Their Elements" was the subject upon which the president spoke, and, although it had a distinctly scientific bearing, it was dealt with in such a simple and interesting way that anyone could understand and enjoy it. The principal nitrates discussed were nitric acid, potassium, nitrate or common saltpeire, and sodiam nitrate, or to be given by the faculty of the Uni-> mented upon, and their properties and uses illustrated by numerous experiments.

>
> The lecturer then spoke of the uses of the principal nitrates, dwelling at some length upon saltpetre, its value in the manufacture of gunpowder, and its usefulness as a flux and as a ferrilizer. Wheat land, whose average yield was eleven bushels per acre, was made to produce their six bushels by the use of this fertilizer. This guistance it is that makes the wheat fields of India and Chill so productive, and yet the natural supply is so limited that fifty years will exhaust it. One million tons of sultreater are shifted from Chill each year. Some means must be discovered by which these fertilizers can be produced, or else the amount of wheat produced will not be equal to the wants of mankind.
> Numerous experiments were performed, among the most interesting being those with guncotting, ultric acid and potassium todide, a substance so explesive that its explosion was caused by touching it with a feather.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO PREPARE RESOLUTIONS.

Position of the Association In the Matter—Hon. R. B. Shepard Returns—Has No Senatorial Preference—Walker's Committee Very Confident of Success.

The local ministerial association has decided to take a hand in the movement to prevent B. H. Roberts from representing Utah in congress. The association is composed of the ministers of the various Protestant desominations, and at their usual weekly meeting, held yesterday, Mr. Roberts and his three alleged wives and the winsformed the principal toxic of discussion. The subject had been mentioned and talked over in the meetings before, but no course of action was decided upon until yesterday, It was the concensus of opinion that some atteps should be taken by the association to mark its disappreval of polygamy in general, and particularly against, as they say, a self-confessed polygamist representing the state in congress. The ministers say they are disposed to deal fairly with the Mormon people, and they do not blame them as a whole for the alleged with the passociation are monogamists and believe that many of them do not approve of Mr. Roberts' course. They have, therefore, no quarrel with the Mormon people, but as the members of the association are monogamists and believe that many of them do not approve of Mr. Roberts' course. The ministers have been keeping pretty close cases on Mr. Roberts' utterances in his sermons and elsewhere, and have come to the conclusion that he is thoroughly in sympathy with the principle of polygamy, and that he is hold and outspoken in its defense.

A QUESTION OF MAJORITY.

Great Conference of the Supporters of Walker.

"Mr. Walker will be elected in the Second without any doubt; it is only a question of how large his majority will be," said Mr. Blakely of the Walker campaign committee who was endorsed by other members of the committee who were present. The committee whas were present. The committee whas were present. The committee whas under the contraction of the pseudostal by other members of the committee whas under the contract and the bond of $10,000 pending final acceptance of the work at the end of five years, would be ample protection for the pseudost, because the present and prospective condition of the payment moleage afforded any reason for the retention of the money.

partly on business and partly on pleasure.

Mr. Shepard is a candidate for speakership of the house, but his protracted absence was not calculated to further his campaign, and his candidature was somewhat lost sight of, but now that he has returned it may be expected that he will loom up on the political harizon. He will have considerable support for the speakership, and as the greater number of the legislators are yet unpledged he has a good fighting chance.

Speaking of the United States senayet unpledged he has a good fighting chance.

Speaking of the United States senatorahip, Mr. Shepard said he was not pledged to any candidate, and had not yet made up his mind whom he would apport for the exalted position. He is suspected, however, of hing tendencies. The teople in the states he visited talk a good deal about R. H. Roberts and his wives, but it is, Mr. Shepard says, in a joiring kind of way. 'They don't care,' said Mr. Shepard, 'how muny wives he has, and won't trouble he was ciected beyond question, but won't be unseated."
